

Date	Speaker	Title	Time	Room
7 th November 2018	Dr Ilona Obara - Senior Lecturer Neuropharmacology, Newcastle University.	Metformin, mTORC1 and the regulation of opioid efficacy in chronic pain.	12-1pm	H4.2
5 th December 2018	Dr Catherine Lawrence –Senior Lecturer, University of Manchester.	The impact of diet on inflammation & neurodegeneration.	12-1pm	Lecture theatre A
9 th January 2019	Prof Kenneth Smith – Head of the department of Neuroinflammation, UCL institute of Neurology, Queen square.	Multiple sclerosis – from an energy perspective.	12-1pm	John Parker Lecture Theatre
6 th February 2019	Dr Joseph Sollini – Postdoctoral Research Fellow, UCL Ear Institute.	The role of auditory cortex in sound source segregation.	4-5pm	John Parker Lecture Theatre
6 th March 2019	Prof Johannes Attems - Honorary Consultant Pathologist, Newcastle University.	Multimorbidity of the ageing brain; implications for clinico-pathological correlative studies and clinical trials.	12-1pm	John Parker Lecture Theatre
3 rd April 2019	Dr Tobias Hauser – Research Fellow, Max Planck UCL Centre.	Towards a Developmental Computational Psychiatry.	12-1pm	John Parker Lecture Theatre
1 st May 2019	Adam Feinstein – Author and Journalist.	Autism and the brain: How our thinking has changed.	Post-poned
5th June 2019	Prof Kyle Pattinson - Associate Professor, Consultant Anaesthetist, University of Oxford.	Understanding the brain mechanisms of breathlessness.	12-1pm	John Parker Lecture Theatre
3rd July 2019	Dr Natalie Ryan - Clinical Research Associate, UCL institute of Neurology, Queen square.	Deciphering phenotypic heterogeneity in familial Alzheimer's disease.	12-1pm	H4.2