

Privacy information for visitors to our website

This privacy policy explains how we use any personal information we collect about you when you visit our website.

What information we collect when you are browsing our site and why

We use analytical cookies to collect information when you visit our website. This tells us how visitors use our site. The information is used to compile reports and to help us improve the site.

The cookies collect information in an anonymous form, including the number of visitors to the site, where visitors have come to the site from and the pages they visited. These cookies do not contain any information about you as a person.

We use Google Analytics to collect these cookies and understand how users navigate our site.

More information about Google Analytics can be found on the Google Analytics data protection and security webpage

To opt out of being tracked by Google Analytics across all websites visit the Google Analytics opt-out browser add-on webpage

Embedded content

Sometimes we'll embed content in our pages that we don't control or operate, for example social media Facebook and Twitter that enable you to interact with our pages. When you interact with these elements, which are always marked clearly, you've not interacted with our website but instead the service embedded, and we can't guarantee what data is collected.

How long do we keep your data for?

A cookie is a small text file stored in your browser, which you have control over. You may delete them at any time. Find out more on the All about cookies website.

Where can I get more information?

If you have any questions about the website please contact our web team.